U.S. History Regents Review
The Hit List

What do I really have to know to PASS (probably not ACE) the U.S. History Regents Exam?

- There are a number of questions that frequently appear on the Regents exam.
- Be ready for those and you set yourself up well to pass.
1. Mercantilism

- Economic system that benefits the mother country
- Colonies are expected to provide the raw materials and also be a market for finished goods
2. Salutary Neglect

• So long as the colonists were keeping up their end of the mercantilist system, Great Britain left them alone to rule themselves.

• Most colonists considered themselves loyal British subjects through this period because they had many freedoms.
3. Mayflower Compact
House of Burgesses
Fundamental Orders of CT
= examples of colonial self-rule

• The House of Burgesses was the first representative body in the colonies.

• The Mayflower Compact and the Fundamental Orders of CT are examples of written documents establishing local self-government.
4. Enlightenment Ideas & natural rights

- Enlightenment philosophers described how people are endowed with certain inalienable natural rights.
- John Locke “life, liberty, property”
- Baron DeMontesquieu “separation of powers of government”
- Idea of the “consent of the governed”
5. Declaration of Independence

- NOT a plan of government
- It is a statement of grievances by the colonists against the British king
- Written by Thomas Jefferson, it was inspired by John Locke.
6. Thomas Paine & Common Sense

- Thomas Paine wrote a pamphlet entitled “Common Sense” to convince people to support the cause of independence.
7. Colonial Resistance Tactics

- Committees of Correspondence
  Colonists organized together to spread the ideas of independence.

- Nonimportation Agreements
  Colonists agreed not to buy or sell any products of Great Britain.

- Boston Tea Party
  Colonists dumped British tea into the Port of Boston to protest British colonial practices such as “taxation without representation.”
8. Articles of Confederation

= the first American government

Strengths
✓ Provided enough structure for the USA to defeat the British.
✓ Decided how to settle new states

Weaknesses
✓ States are stronger than federal government.
✓ Federal government did not have the power to tax.
✓ Federal government did not have the power to raise an army.
✓ The Articles needed 13/13 states to revise them.
✓ 9/13 states needed to agree to pass laws.
9. Northwest Ordinance

• Law passed under the Articles of Confederation by the Continental Congress that established procedure for the admission of new states to the Union.
10. Constitutional Convention

- At the Constitutional Convention, representatives were going to rewrite the Constitution, but it needed to be completely overhauled.
11. Great Compromise

• Question arose regarding representation: should representation in Congress be equal between states or proportionate to the population?

• Compromise: a bicameral legislature

  Senate: Each state gets 2 votes.

  House of Representatives: representation by population
12. 3/5 Compromise

• Question arose as to how slaves would be counted. The south wanted them counted for representation but not necessarily taxation. The north wanted the opposite. The compromise was that every 5 slaves would count as 3 people for both representation and taxation purposes.
13. Ratification

- The new Constitution needed to be ratified by a majority of the states.
14. Federalist Papers

- Written by Hamilton, Adams, Jay to encourage people to ratify the Constitution.
15. Anti-federalists and Federalists

- Argued over whether the Constitution gave the federal government too much power.
16. Bill of Rights

- The first ten amendments of the Constitution were added to satisfy the Anti-federalists.
- They guaranteed LIMITED GOVERNMENT by providing for the freedoms of speech, press, religion, right to bear arms, freedoms from unreasonable search and seizure, right to privacy, right to trial by jury, etc.
17. Popular Sovereignty

- People get to vote for what they want
18. Limited Government

- Government does not have all the power like a dictator or a king.
- There are some things that government cannot do. For example, government cannot take away your freedom of speech, press, religion, deprive you of a trial by jury or subject you to cruel or unusual punishment.
19. Federalism

- Federalism is the division of power between the federal, state, and local governments.
- It is NOT the separation of powers between branches of government.
20. Federalism

- Enumerated (Delegated) powers - Powers specifically granted to the federal government
  - Examples include the right to maintain a post office, build a military, coin money, and make treaties.

- Implied powers are powers not specifically given to the federal government, but can be interpreted through the elastic clause as “necessary and proper.”
21. Federalism

- Reserved powers: powers not given to the federal government are reserved for the states.

- Examples include the right to regulate education, marriages, and local criminal proceedings.
22. Federalism

• Concurrent powers - There are some powers that both the federal and state governments share.

• For example, both the federal and state governments maintain highways.
23. Separation of Powers

- Different branches of government have specific powers given to them by the Constitution.
24. Separation of Powers
Executive Branch

The executive branch (president and administration) has the power to make treaties, command the armed forces, make appointments, suggest Supreme Court nominees, suggest legislation, create the budget, and veto laws.
25. Separation of Powers

Legislative Branch

The legislative branch has the power to make laws, approve nominations to the Supreme Court, ratify treaties, declare war, coin money, and raise taxes.
26. Separation of Powers
Judicial Branch

The role of the judicial branch is to interpret the Constitution. The Supreme Court decides if a law or action of the president or Congress is unconstitutional.
27. Electoral College

People do not vote directly for the president. Instead, people vote for an elector and the elector votes for the president. It’s all or nothing in terms of electoral votes from a state. A candidate either wins the state and gets all the votes or gets nothing. Recently, some people have suggested a constitutional amendment to elect the president by popular vote instead.
28. Checks and Balances

The Constitution arranges for each branch of government to be checked by another branch so that no one branch can get too powerful.
29. Checks and Balances: How the Executive Branch is Checked

- Congress can override a presidential veto.
- Congress has to ratify treaties and approve appointments made by the president.
- The Supreme Court can decide an action of the President is unconstitutional.
30. Checks and Balances: How the Legislative Branch is Checked

- The Supreme Court can decide that an act or action is unconstitutional.
- The president can veto a law.
31. Checks and Balances: How the Judicial Branch is Checked

- The President appoints nominees to the Supreme Court.
- Congress can amend the Constitution which is the only way for another branch of government to change a Supreme Court ruling.
32. Impeachment Process

- The House of Representatives investigates and files charges. The House votes and if enough evidence is found to bring about impeachment proceedings, then the president (or other public official) is impeached.

- The Senate acts as the jury for the removal trial after impeachment.

- Two presidents have been impeached: Andrew Johnson and Bill Clinton.
33. Flexibility

- The Constitution can be adapted to meet the changing demands of the U.S..
- Congress can take on more powers by doing what is “necessary and proper.”
- The Constitution is interpreted by the Supreme Court (judicial review).
34. Elastic Clause

- This clause gives the federal government the power to take on extra powers in the best interest of the nation.
- "necessary and proper"
- Loose constructionists favor a wide use of the elastic clause.
- Strict constructionists do not want the federal government expanding their powers.
35. Judicial Review

The Supreme Court has the right to interpret the Constitution and determine if an act or action of Congress or the President is constitutional or not.
36. Amendment Process

• 2/3 of both the Senate and House of Representatives need to approve an amendment to the Constitution.

• Then the amendment is sent to the states for ratification. \( \frac{3}{4} \) of the states need to ratify it for it to become a permanent change to the Constitution.
37. Filibuster

- A Filibuster is when a Representative or Senator gives long speeches in an effort to delay or obstruct legislation that he (or she) opposes.

- The House of Representatives has rules as to how long they can debate since there are so many representatives. In the smaller Senate, unlimited debate continues with the idea that a senator should have the right to speak as long as necessary on any issue.

- Cloture: 1917 rule that says Senate can end the debate with a 2/3 vote. 2/3 is hard to get.

- The record for the longest individual speech goes to South Carolina's J. Strom Thurmond who filibustered for 24 hours and 18 minutes against the Civil Rights Act of 1957.
38. Unwritten Constitution

• George Washington began a few precedents which are not part of the Constitution but have always been in place:
  i.e. Cabinet positions
  political parties
  for a long time, the 2-term tradition (that was ultimately changed with an amendment)
39. Alexander Hamilton’s 4 Part Financial Plan

1. Federal government assumes the war debts of the states.
2. National Bank
3. Excise tax on whiskey
4. Protective Tariff: tax on imports
40. John Marshall’s Supreme Court decisions

- John Marshall was the 1st chief justice of the Supreme Court.
- Marshall’s decisions strengthened the power of the federal government.
- Marbury v. Madison established the power of judicial review which allowed the Supreme Court to interpret the Constitution.
- McCullough v. Maryland established a National Bank.
41. Thomas Jefferson & Louisiana Purchase

- Thomas Jefferson was a Democrat-Republican and believed in states rights and interpreted the Constitution strictly. He did not want the federal government to take on more power than specifically given it by the Constitution.

- Jefferson had to contradict his strict constructionist ideas in order to purchase Louisiana.

- The Louisiana Purchase gave the U.S. control of the Mississippi River.
42. Expansion of the U.S.: roads, canals, railroads

- Turnpikes (roads) were built first
- Then came canals (i.e. Erie Canal)
  The Erie Canal connected the Great Lakes to New York City.
- Railroads were constructed throughout the mid 1800s, with the first transcontinental railroad completed in 1862.
43. Monroe Doctrine

• President James Monroe’s doctrine warned European powers about future colonization in the western hemisphere.
• It said that the U.S. would stay out of European affairs.
• It was designed to help preserve the independence won by several Latin American countries.
• It subtly threatened U.S. military intervention if Europe tried to colonize the western hemisphere though we did not have to enforce it for years.
44. Andrew Jackson & the Trail of Tears

• The Supreme Court ruled in Worcester v. Georgia that the Cherokee Indians could not be forced to give up their land.
• Andrew Jackson did not enforce the Supreme Court decision but instead supported the Indian Removal Act and forcibly removed the Cherokee Indians to west of the Mississippi River.

The move was called the Trail of Tears.
45. Manifest Destiny

- The belief that God planned for the United States to spread from sea to shining sea
46. Mexican American War

- A dispute over the border of Texas and Mexico led to the Mexican American War in 1848.
- The Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo gave the U.S. the land known as the Mexican Cession and set off another wave of arguments over the expansion of slavery.
47. Gold Rush

• Many Americans went out west in search of gold in 1848.
• It led to population growth in the west, especially California.
• End of units 1-3 review.
48. Expansion of Slavery: Missouri Compromise (1820)

• Written by Henry Clay
• Missouri joined the Union as a slave state and Maine joined the Union as a free state.
• North of 36’30” there would be no slavery
• It solved the slavery problem for another 20 years.
49. Expansion of Slavery: Compromise of 1850

• Written by Henry Clay
• California came in as a free state
• New Mexico and Utah territories would be decided by popular sovereignty
• Fugitive Slave Law enacted in which northerners were supposed to send escaped slaves back south
• No slave trade in Washington, D.C.
50. Expansion of Slavery: Kansas-Nebraska Act

- 1854
- Kansas and Nebraska would determine their slave status based on popular sovereignty
- This set off “Bleeding Kansas” in which pro and antislavery forces in Kansas clashed. Several people died and election results were difficult to determine.
51. Abolitionists

• Harriet Beecher Stowe—wrote Uncle Tom’s Cabin

• Frederick Douglas—from Rochester, NY; wrote an autobiography, published the newspaper, “The North Star”

• William Lloyd Garrison—published “The Liberator”

• Harriet Tubman—helped slaves escape along the underground railroad
52. Dred Scott decision

- Dred Scott sued stating that since he had been brought to free territory he was in fact, free.
- Roger Taney (chief justice) and the Supreme Court ruled that Dred Scott was not a citizen and therefore had no right to sue.
- Taney said that slaves are property and can be taken anywhere.
- The Dred Scott decision therefore negated any of the earlier compromises.
53. Election of 1860

- Republican Abraham Lincoln won the presidency with the most number of electoral votes though it was not a majority of the country.
- The Democrats split their votes to two candidates.
- Immediately following the election, many southern states seceded (left) the Union.
54. Homestead Act

- 1862 Federal government plan to give homesteads to any people that would work the land for 5 years.

- This encouraged settlement of the Great Plains.
55. Reconstruction Plans: Lincoln & Johnson’s

- Believed southern states never left the Union
- 10% of voters needed to take an oath of loyalty
- States must abolish slavery in their new Constitutions.
56. Reconstruction Plan: Radical Republicans (the one that happened)

- South divided into 5 military districts
- New state constitutions must be written
- Blacks must be given the right to vote
- States must ratify the 14th amendment
- Former southern Confederate leaders were barred from office and voting
57. Impeachment of Andrew Johnson

- Andrew Johnson was a southerner so northern Radical Republicans didn’t like him.
- Radical Republicans passed the Tenure of Office Act making it illegal for a president to fire someone without approval of Congress.
- Johnson fired Secretary of War Edwin Stanton.
- Johnson was brought up on impeachment charges for violating the Tenure of Office Act.
- He was impeached but not removed.
58. Black Codes & Jim Crow Laws

- Black Codes and Jim Crow laws were passed by many local southern legislatures to restrict the rights of newly freed blacks.

- Grandfather clauses, literacy tests, and poll taxes prevented blacks from exercising their right to vote.
59. Sharecropping

• In order to make a living following the Civil War many blacks became sharecroppers.

• Sharecroppers worked the land (often for their previous owners) in exchange for a share of the profits and a place to live.
60. Reconstruction Amendments

- 13th Amendment: outlawed slavery
- 14th Amendment: made former slave citizens and entitled to due process
- 15th Amendment: gave blacks the right to vote
61. Plessy v. Ferguson (1896)

• Homer Plessy (part black) sat on a white railroad car and was arrested.

• The Supreme Court ruled that segregated facilities was legal provided that it was equal.

• “Separate but equal” wasn’t overturned until 1954 with Brown v. Board of Education.
62. Transcontinental Railroad

• 1862 the first transcontinental railroad met up at Promontory Point, Utah.

• Government gave land grants and cash to railroad companies to create the railroad.
63. Closing of the Frontier

- 1890 is considered the end of the Indian Wars
- Battle of Wounded Knee, South Dakota was the last big confrontation between U.S. troops and the Indians.
- Native American population was dramatically reduced.
64. Dawes Severalty Act (1881)

- Aimed at Americanizing the Indians
- Divided reservations into individual plots for people to own
Urbanization

- Urban: City
- Rural: Country
- During the period of industrialization, many people moved from the country to the cities in search of jobs in the cities.
66. New v. Old Immigration

• Old immigration was from western Europe.
• New immigrants coming to the U.S. during the period of industrialization came from eastern Europe, Italy, Greece, and Asia.
67. Nativism

- Many Americans resented the immigrants coming in and changing the ethnic makeup of the country.
- Nativists liked native born white Protestant American males.
- Immigration restrictions such as the quota system and resurgence of the Ku Klux Klan are examples of the rise of nativism, especially in the 1920s.
68. Immigration Restrictions

• For most of industrialization, the U.S. allowed anyone who wanted to immigrate to the U.S. to come. We needed cheap labor.

• Chinese Exclusion Act (1881)- The U.S. started to restrict immigration and stopped allowing any Chinese in.

• 1920’s Quota System: limited the number of people from particular countries that wanted to immigrate; preference was given to people from western Europe
69. Monopolies

• Big business leaders did all they could to eliminate competition.
• Big businesses bought up smaller competing business until they dominated (controlled) the entire industry.
• Big monopolies became Trusts.
70. laissez-faire capitalism

- Laissez-faire means complete hands off of the government on the economy

- Government did not regulate big business for many years but rather let the marketplace and supply/demand control industry
71. Entrepreneurs

- Businessmen like Andrew Carnegie (steel), Cornelius Vanderbilt (railroad) and John Rockefeller (Standard Oil) helped skyrocket the American manufacturing to #1 in the world by 1900.
72. Captain of Industry & Robber Barons

- A captain of industry is a description given to entrepreneurs like Andrew Carnegie who did great things for business and the country. Andrew Carnegie was also a philanthropist, giving away money to schools and libraries.

- A robber baron is the name given to entrepreneurs who get ahead by abusing the workers with bad working conditions, long hours, and little pay.
73. Labor Unions

• Labor Unions like the Knights of Labor (led by Terrence Powderly) and the American Federation of Labor (led by Samuel Gompers) fought for better working conditions and higher pay.

• For many years the government supported big business instead of labor unions.
74. Collective Bargaining

- Labor unions wanted the right to collective bargaining.

- Collective bargaining involves both labor and management sitting down and discussing terms in order to agree on a contract.

- The right to collective bargaining is not guaranteed until the Wagner Act during the Great Depression.
75. Sherman Antitrust Act
Clayton Antitrust Act
Interstate Commerce Commission

- These are federal laws passed in order to restrict big business and help the American consumer.
76. Populists

- The Populists were a third party prominent in national politics in the 1890s. They were made up of farmers and working class people.
- Populists wanted free coinage of silver instead of the gold standard. They thought it would set off inflation and help them be able to pay off their loans.
- Populists wanted government to regulate the railroads, a secret ballot, direct election of senators, and an 8 hours workday.
- The legacy of Populists is that many of their proposed reforms were eventually made into law.
William Jennings Bryan ran for president in 1896 against Republican William McKinley.

He made a famous Cross of Gold speech arguing for the free coinage of silver so as not to “crucify mankind on a cross of gold.”
Muckrakers

- Muckrakers were Progressive writers who sought to uncover abuses of industrialization
- Jacob Riis: photos of the inner cities in How the Other Half Lives
- Lincoln Steffens: The Shame of the Cities
- Ida Tarbell: expose on Standard Oil
- Upton Sinclair: wrote The Jungle about the meat packing industry.
79. Progressive Reformers

- Jane Addams: opened Hull House to help immigrants assimilate

- Mother Jones: worked to help labor

- Booker T. Washington opened Tuskegee Institute to help blacks get a job. He was labeled an accommodationist because he wanted blacks to get a job first and worry about equality later.

- W.E.B. DuBois started the NAACP and wanted blacks to quickly achieve full equality.
81. Women’s Rights

- Suffrage: right of women to vote
- 1848 At the Seneca Falls Convention organized by Elizabeth Cady Stanton, the suffragettes signed the Declaration of Sentiments.
- Susan B. Anthony was arrested for attempting to vote in Rochester, New York.
- Some states in the west gave women rights earlier than in the east.
- 19th amendment finally gave women the right to vote nationwide.
82. Initiative, Referendum, Recall

- Initiative - Voters can suggest laws
- Referendum - An idea can go to the voters of an area to decide
- Recall - Voters can recall (remove) someone from service.

The answer is usually that these things gave more people the chance to participate in politics or increased democracy.
83. Progressive Amendments

- 16\textsuperscript{th}: Graduated Income Tax
- 17\textsuperscript{th}: Direct Election of Senators
- 18\textsuperscript{th}: Prohibition
- 19\textsuperscript{th}: Women have the right to vote
84. Progressive Legislation

- Pure Food & Drug Act
- Meat Inspection Act
- Federal Reserve Act - divided the nation into federal reserve districts.
  - created the Federal Reserve Board whose job is to control the money supply by raising/lowering interest rates
  - low interest rates stimulate spending; high interest rates make people not spend money
85. Imperialism

- Imperialism is when a stronger country takes over a weaker country in order to get resources and markets.
86. U.S. Imperialism

- Commodore Matthew Perry opened up Japan for U.S. trading back in the 1850s.

- Open Door Policy: U.S. warned other nations not to carve up China into colonies so that we could continue to have trading rights there.

- Hawaii: After Sanford Dole and other American planters overthrew Queen Liliuokalani, Hawaii was annexed by the U.S.
87. Panama Canal

- U.S. President Theodore Roosevelt helped Panama get its independence from Colombia.
- Then the U.S. took the Panama Canal zone in order to build a canal to connect the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific Ocean.
- We gave the canal back to Panama in 2000.
• End of units 4-6 review
88. Roosevelt Corollary

- Teddy Roosevelt added a corollary (an extra thing) to the Monroe Doctrine.
- It said that the U.S. would act as an international policepower in the western hemisphere if any countries weren’t behaving.
89. Spanish-American War

- After the U.S.S. Maine was sunk in the Havana harbor the U.S. declared war on Spain
- Spain lost and the U.S. got the Philippines, Cuba, Puerto Rico, and Guam
- Platt Amendment: Cuba got its independence but the U.S. could oversee its foreign relations as well as keep up a military base in Guatanamo Bay.
- Philippines did not get their independence until after WWII.
90. U.S. Entry into WWI

The United States tried to stay neutral at the beginning of WWI.

- Sussex Pledge: Germany said they would not sink American ships but they repudiated (took it back) and did so anyway = unrestricted submarine warfare.

- Zimmerman Note: found by Britain it was a note from Germany to Mexico promising German help if Mexico wanted to keep the U.S. busy fighting over here.

- Lusitania: Many Americans were killed on board the Lusitania, a British passenger liner, by a German u-boat.

- Wilson said that the U.S. needed to get involved in order to “make the world safe for democracy.”
91. Schenck v. United States

- Schenck was arrested for distributing antiwar pamphlets.
- He argued “freedom of speech.”
- His arrest was upheld because what he was saying posed a “clear and present danger” to the country.
92. Wilson’s 14 Points

- Before WWI ended, Woodrow Wilson had an address to Congress in which he listed 14 main points that he thought would keep peace in the world.
- The 14 Points were an IDEA for the way the world should be after WWI.
- Wilson’s favorite idea was for a League of Nations to be created in order to make World War I was the “war to end all wars.”
93. Treaty of Versailles & the League of Nations

- The Treaty of Versailles ended World War I and punished Germany harshly.
- The Treaty of Versailles established a League of Nations, the world’s first international peacekeeping organization.
- The United States did not ever sign the Treaty of Versailles and never joined the League of Nations.
94. Red Scare

• Red = color of communists
• After WWI, the U.S. was very afraid of communists and immigrants. The time period was known as the Red Scare.
• Attorney General Palmer rounded up suspected communists and deported them = Palmer Raids
• Sacco and Vanzetti were executed for their crimes. Most people thought they were found guilty because they were immigrants.
95. Roaring Twenties

- Consumer goods skyrocketed
- Model T, radio, washing machines
- Buying on credit
- Flappers & Prohibition
- Changing manners and morals—conflict between traditional and modern values
- Overproduction of consumer goods—eventually people didn’t need more goods; they already had radios, cars, washing machines, etc.

Farm prices were still low because of overproduction.
96. Economics of the Great Depression

- GNP: Gross National Product = sum value of all goods and services produced in the country
- Per Capita Income: GNP divided by population
- Stock speculation: people put a percentage down when they bought shares of stock
- Banks were unregulated
97. Dust Bowl

• A 10 year drought and overproduction of farm fields after World War I made many farmers go broke.
• Massive dust storms resulted.
• Improvements came with the Agricultural Adjustment Act (AAA) during the New Deal.
• Many people moved west in order to get out of the Dust Bowl—especially to California.
98. Trickle-down theory

• Herbert Hoover’s plan that tax breaks and money given to businesses will trickle down to the people.
• Businesses will be able to afford to expand and hire more people.
• Typically a Republican plan, used by Hoover (failed) and Reagan (moderate success)
99. New Deal

- Franklin D. Roosevelt’s plan to get the U.S. out of the Great Depression.
- Deficit spending: Roosevelt believed the government had to spend money to make money
- Three R’s: Relief, Recovery, Reform
100. Roosevelt’s Court Packing Scheme

- The Supreme Court kept declaring parts of the New Deal unconstitutional.
- Roosevelt wanted to add 6 judges to the Supreme Court so that there would be a majority there that supported his proposals.
- Congress nixed the plan—said it violated separation of powers and checks and balances.
101. U.S. Neutrality in the 1930s

• The U.S. tried to stay out of European affairs in the 1930s but increasingly were drawn in.

• Neutrality Acts of 1935-1937 were aimed at stopping us from trading with warring countries.

• Lend-Lease Act and Destroyers for Bases Deal had us helping the Allies without actually sending troops yet.
102. Korematsu v. United States

- Fred Korematsu sued over the internment of Japanese Americans during WWII.
- Supreme Court ruled that in a time of war that the government could do what was necessary to protect the country.
103. Women during WWII

- Many women joined the armed forces in noncombat roles.
- Women went to work in the war industries.
- Women saved grease, metal and other things that could help the war effort.
104. War Bonds

• Patriotic Americans were expected to spend 10% of their salary and buy war bonds.

• War bonds gave the government money to fight the war which would be paid back to the people long after the war.
105. Manhattan Project

- Roosevelt initiated the Manhattan Project to build an atomic bomb.
- The bomb was tested at Los Alamos, New Mexico and then used on the cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki to get the Japanese to end WWII.
106. Nuremberg Trials

- German officials that engineered the Holocaust were put on trial following WWII.
- “It was war” or “I was following orders” was not a good enough response.
- Leaders were responsible for individual actions.
107. GI Bill

- The G.I. Bill was to help American soldiers reenter U.S. society by giving them loans to buy houses, and money to go to college or trade schools.
108. Containment & Domino Theory

- Containment: We need to stop the spread of communism.

- Domino Theory: If one nation falls to communism, so will another, and another, and eventually that will threaten American liberty.

- Marshall Plan— give money to war torn Europe to help with war recovery; basically so that they don’t turn to communists for help.

- Truman Doctrine— give money to Greece and Turkey for war recovery so that they don’t turn to communists for help.

- Eisenhower Doctrine— same goes but in the Middle East.
110. Berlin Airlift

• The Soviets tried to cut off the city of Berlin.

• Western countries responded with more than 200,000 flights of food, medicine and supplies.
111. Korean War

- 1950-1953 containment
- Following WWII Korea was divided into a communist north and democratic south at the 38th parallel.
- North Korea invaded South Korea
- United Nations forces led by General McCarthur worked to defeat North Korea. He was actually fired by publicly criticizing how Harry Truman wouldn’t just use another a-bomb and end the war quickly.
- The U.S. never declared war on Korea.

War ended with a cease-fire. U.S. troops still guard the border between North (Communist) and South Korea at the 38th parallel.
112. Communist Hysteria

- We were afraid of communists.
- House UnAmerican Activities Committee (HUAC) looked for communists in government.
- Government searched for communists in the movie industry (Hollywood Ten.)
- Ethel & Julius Rosenberg were executed for giving atomic secrets to the Soviet Union.
- Senator Joseph McCarthy accused many people as being “card-carrying communists.” When he went after the army, he had gone too far and was issued a public censure.
113. Baby boom

- The generation of children born to WWII veterans is known as the baby boom.
- Many veterans came home to have LARGE families. (My grandmother had 7 kids and her sister had 12.)
- The baby boom generation put a strain on the educational resources. More schools needed to be built in the 50s and colleges by the late 60s.
- Baby boom generation is nearing retirement now and will stress the Social Security system.
114. Growth of suburbs

• Affordable housing subsidized by the G.I. Bill and the construction of the interstate highway system during Eisenhower’s administration led to the increase in the suburbs.

• White flight—blacks stayed in the cities; whites moved
115. Cuban Missile Crisis & Bay of Pigs invasion

- John F. Kennedy
- Bay of Pigs: U.S. helped train a group of Cuban exiles to go overthrow Fidel Castro of Cuba. It failed and was an embarrassment to JFK’s administration.
- Cuban Missile Crisis: Soviets under Nikita Kruschev tried to put nuclear missiles in Cuba, which is close to the United States. JFK ordered an embargo and Kruschev turned his ships around.
• End of review for units 7-9
116. Peace Corps

- JFK told the American people, “Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country” and created the Peace Corps, an international volunteer organization.
- Those volunteers could spread good democratic values, too.
117. Martin Luther King, Jr.

- Southern minister who worked for civil rights for black Americans
- Led the Montgomery Bus Boycott
- “I have a dream” speech
- March on Washington
118. Civil Rights Act of 1964

• Passed by Lyndon Johnson following JFK’s death, the landmark legislation ruled that all racial discrimination and segregation was illegal.

• Created the Equal Opportunity Commission to investigate cases of discrimination
119. Voting Rights Act of 1965

• Extended the right to vote to blacks who had been denied the vote through poll taxes, literacy tests, grandfather clauses, etc...

• Any methods used to limit the right of blacks to vote were ruled illegal.
